Building Research Innovation for Community Knowledge and Sustainability 2019

Call for Applications for the Social Innovation Research Collaboration Platform (SIRCP)

If you are a doctoral candidate, post-doctoral or early career researcher, who is interested in building innovative, cross-sector research collaborations, and want the chance to access funding to kick start your work then the SIRCP is for you.

10th – 11th May 2019, 10.00 – 18.00
Stan Group - Innovation Hub
2/F, 1163 Canton Road, Kowloon

Why should I get involved in the SIRCP?
- Learn from and connect with global leaders in social innovation
- Develop research proposals that have a direct social impact
- Seek opportunities to build innovative partnerships and bid for seed funding

How can I be part of the SIRCP?
- Apply using the QR code below to participate in a two day social innovation research collaboration workshop (10th and 11th May)
- Learn from global academic leaders in social innovation, develop connections, experiment with ideas and build research collaborations
- Develop research proposal and bid to receive seed funding to pilot your initiative

Research Tracks 2019

Track One
- Funding and financing social change

Track Two
- The challenges of scaling social enterprises

Track Three
- Community led social innovation

Confirmed speakers (others will be announced soon):
- Professor Alex Nicholls
  Said Business School at the University of Oxford, UK
- Dr Jane Lee
  Chair of the Social Innovation and Entrepreneurship Development Fund Task Force
  Director, Hong Kong Sheng Kung Hui Welfare Council

Each research track is limited to 30 spaces only.

Deadline for application: 26th April 2019

Enquiries: Margaret Wu Margaret.Wu@britishcouncil.org.hk

RSVP
Event details

4 April 2019